Course Description

Lang1514 is designed for non-Chinese language background students who have completed up to 300 hours of Chinese instruction. It prepares them for an intermediate to advanced level understanding of spoken and written Chinese and equips them with a strong communicative competence in using Chinese in work, social and some professional situations. After successfully completing the course, students' listening, speaking, reading and writing skills will be enhanced, and they will be able to participate in complete, coherent and appropriate conversations and discourse on topics related to work, society and profession. They can also understand Chinese vocabulary at HSK (levels 4 and 5).

Course outlines

Week	Topics

Methods of instruction: interactive tutorials support active learning through group discussion, collaborative activities, peer learning, input, practice and feedback. Students are expected to come prepared with their online tasks completed and actively engage in all course-related learning activities including individual tasks and group discussions in class and outside the classroom.

Intended Learning Outcomes (ILOs)

By the end of this course, students should be able to:

1. Interpret complex sentence patterns-such as compound sentences and co-verbal structures—as well as vocabulary and rhetorical devices accurately in spoken and written discourse related to social and professional interactions.
2. Conduct conversations for social and professional purposes in relevant settings.
3. Use accurate and appropriate vocabulary, grammar, sentence structures, and discourse for spoken and written communication in social and professional interactions.
4. Pronounce words and sentences accurately and clearly with natural intonation.
5. Apply understanding of Chinese culture and cultural diversity in social and professional interactions.
6. Collaborate effectively in group work.

Course AI Policy

At HKUST, we embrace innovation and technology including Generative AI. Our approach is to rely firmly on pedagogical principles, with an ethical commitment to ensure fairness.

If students use AI tools in the course assessments, they must adhere to the principles of academic integrity and make a declaration at the end of each oral or written assessment. The declaration should include:

- 1) Was any AI tool used in this assessment?
- 2) What tool was used and how was it used?

Any misdeclaration will be regarded as a violation of academic integrity and result in serious consequences. See the section Academic Integrity below for details.

To know more about how to use the GenAI tools appropriately in language courses, students are required to complete a Canvas learning module developed by the Center for Language Education. The module can be found on the course Canvas site. Students should ensure that they have completed it before they come to class.

Communication and Feedback

Assessment marks for individual assessed tasks will be communicated via Canvas within two weeks of submission. Feedback on assignments will include strengths and areas for improvement. Students who have further questions about the feedback including marks should consult the instructor within five working days after the feedback is received.

Resubmission Policy

Resubmissions are not accepted, except in exceptional circumstances.

Required Texts and Materials

This course will use Integrated Chinese (Vol.4) as textbook. Other course materials and additional resources are provided via Canvas.

Academic Integrity

Students are expected to adhere to the university's academic integrity policy. Students are expected to uphold HKUST's Academic Honor Code and to maintain the highest standards of academic integrity. The University has zero tolerance of academic misconduct. Please refer to Academic Integrity | HKUST – Academic Registry for the University's definition of plagiarism and ways to avoid cheating and plagiarism.

Plagiarism

In CLE assignments, students should not copy from others nor submit the same work for multiple courses. Source materials must be explicitly acknowledged.

Assignments with evidence of plagiarism may score a zero and be followed up with your department's Dean. To demonstrate academic integrity and avoid plagiarism, you are expected to:

- paraphrase, summarize, reference and synthesize ideas from sources
- refrain from copying expressions and ideas directly from any source (e.g. from another student, or from a video, or from an article, etc.) without proper acknowledgement
